Students Participate in Career Day

Hudson, NY (July 3, 2008)—Students from several Questar III programs learned more about health care careers at an event held at the Columbia-Greene Educational Center in Hudson.

Seventeen panelists from area hospitals, nursing facilities and health care agencies also discussed future trends in health care and continuing education opportunities in the field during the Career Day event. Students from the Adult Licensed Practical Nursing (LPN), high school LPN, Certified Nurse Aide and New Visions: Medicine & Allied Health programs attended.

Questar III Career Development Facilitator Lynn Seftner said these real-life insights help students make informed decisions about future employment.

Pictured, Anna Wilson-Spiro, a senior in the LPN Program, discusses health care careers with Roxanna Raffa, RN, from the Catskill Hudson Area Health Education Center.
